DESCRIPTION

A practical polyester lanyard designed to carry badges, ID cards or keys comfortably. Available in several colours, for example Black, White and Navy, it is suitable for everyday use at events, trade shows or in professional environments.

Finished with reinforced stitching near the attachment and sealed edges to prevent fraying, this lanyard is built for regular use. The reverse side can be marked free of charge when the same artwork is applied on both sides, giving you greater visibility without extra cost.

Personalised lanyard available from one piece, ideal for companies, clubs, associations and event organisers. We apply your design using embroidery, DTF printing, flex, screen printing, transfer and pad printing. Our design studio can retouch or vectorise your logo prior to production.
