DESCRIPTION

The Sommelier Foxy is a handy kitchen tool made from stainless steel and steel, designed to open bottles easily with its two-stage construction. It features a corkscrew, foil cutter and bottle opener, providing a comfortable grip and versatile use at home or for events. The metal construction is straightforward to clean after use, with no special treatments required.

Offer a custom / personalised Sommelier Foxy with logo using tampography or laser engraving for a crisp, durable mark. Perfect for companies, sports clubs, associations, events or private customers looking for a useful and elegant promotional item. Our studio can prepare or vectorise your logo if needed.
