DESCRIPTION

The Terol double-walled glass mug (14.5 x 16 cm) is made from borosilicate glass for thermal stability. Its tall profile with an integrated handle provides a comfortable grip, while the double wall helps maintain beverage temperature and protects hands from heat. The bamboo lid adds a natural finish and helps keep drinks covered. Care is straightforward; follow the manufacturer's guidance for handwashing or dishwasher compatibility.

The seamless join between handle and body gives a clean, sturdy appearance in everyday use. With a 450 ml capacity this mug is practical for hot and cold drinks at the office, on the go or at events. Its proportions make storage simple in most service areas and kitchens.
