DESCRIPTION

The Seedlopebee is an artisanal kraft paper envelope containing a bee-friendly flower seed mix, designed to be mailed or handed out as a small promotional gift. Its compact dimensions (10.5 x 6.5 cm) and paper construction make it a lightweight gardening item manufactured in Europe, suitable for planting in outdoor garden spaces to attract pollinators.

The packet's slim profile and kraft finish make it easy to store and distribute. While specific paper weight is not provided, the size is ideal for a modest printed panel on the front, allowing clear branding or simple instructions without adding bulk—practical for events, mailings or awareness campaigns.
