DESCRIPTION

The Nonette RPET phone lanyard is designed to be worn around the neck to keep a phone or ID badge easily accessible. Measuring 150 x 0.6 cm with a rounded cord, it provides comfortable, flexible wear; the finish shows metal end caps and a swivel hook suitable for a flat mounting plate. Made from RPET, it wipes clean and is practical for everyday use at events, trade shows or for staff.

The cord features an adjustable slider to change the length and a small square connector between the strap and the hook for a neat fit. The flat mounting plate offers a stable area for attachment and a clear surface for branding.

Order this personalised phone accessory with DTF printing, doming or pad printing (tampography) depending on the desired effect. Ideal for companies, clubs, associations and events.
