DESCRIPTION

The Rondo wall clock features an aluminium dial protected by a glass lens, designed for office use. Its slim, circular profile (Ø30 x 2.5 cm) gives a clear time display with discreet hour and minute hands and a contrasting second hand for easy reading. The outer rim is made from a durable plastic, providing a neat finish suited to professional or communal spaces. Powered by a single AA battery (not included) and simple to maintain with a soft cloth on the lens.

The clock's clean, functional design makes it suitable for meeting rooms, reception areas and workspaces. A rear hanging point allows straightforward mounting, and the refined finish ensures unobtrusive integration with other office signage and fittings.
