DESCRIPTION

This unisex jacket in a 60% cotton / 40% polyester blend is designed for professional use in kitchens and other work environments where comfort and durability matter. It features a Mao collar and a straight cut with long sleeves, giving freedom of movement while protecting the torso. The fabric visible in the photo has a denim-like appearance, comfortable to wear and easy to care for.

The double-breasted front closes with a row of 10 press studs, making the jacket quick to put on and remove. The overall finish is functional and understated, suitable for regular wear and frequent laundering. It is available in several colours, for example Black Denim and Grey Denim, and in sizes XS to 3XL.

The personalised jacket can be decorated with several techniques: screen printing transfer, MSO transfer, DTF printing, flex and embroidery. Customisable from one piece, it suits restaurants, caterers, schools, clubs, associations and corporate events. Our design studio can vectorise and prepare your logo for a clean, professional imprint.
